Paul Mitchell The School San Jose

STUDENT SERVICES

- Housing: Paul Mitchell the School San Jose keeps a file of information about housing in the surrounding areas; however the school does not provide dormitory facilities and does not have any facilities under its control. The school is not responsible to find or assist students in finding housing. However, there are rental communities nearby the institution's facility and the approximate cost of housing is between $1,075 – $2,200/month.
- Academic Advising: Students are provided with academic advising and additional assistance as necessary. Information and advice on any financial assistance are accessible to students. Paul Mitchell The School San Jose also gives advice and information to students on these subjects:
  - Regulations governing licensure to practice, including reciprocity among jurisdictions.
  - Assistance with resume and job search.
  - Opportunities for continuing education following graduation.
  - Assistance with the financial aid process.
- Mental Health Counseling: If referral to professional assistance is necessary, the school maintains a record of such referral.
  - Referrals to mental health counseling.
  - Assistance for students with disabilities.